

Australian Government
Department of Health and Aged Care

Free palliative care education and training

Feel more confident to care for and communicate with people who have a life-limiting illness, their families and loved ones.

For course information and resources to build your skills, visit:

health.gov.au/palliative-care-education