

Australian Government

Australian Government response to the Senate Select Committee report:

Sixth interim report—Big health data:
Australia's big potential.

SEPTEMBER 2024

Response to the recommendations

Australian Government response

The Government notes this recommendation. However, given the passage of time since this report was tabled, in May 2016, a substantive Government response is no longer appropriate.