

Australian Government

Australian Government response to the Senate Select Committee report:

COVID-19: First Interim Report

OCTOBER 2024

Response to the recommendations

Australian Government response

The Government notes this recommendation. However, given the passage of time since this report was tabled, in December 2020, a substantive Government response is no longer appropriate.

The independent COVID-19 Response Inquiry report was released on 29 October 2024. The Government will release a response to this report after careful consideration of its findings and recommendations.