

Australian Government

Department of Health,
Disability and Ageing

Everyone's pregnancy is different

The Australian Government has developed some short resources to explain the care you should receive during pregnancy.

You can talk to your chosen healthcare provider(s) about what type of pregnancy care is best for you. They are there to support you and can answer any questions you have about your pregnancy or the birth.

To learn more visit
health.gov.au/pregnancy-information-resources or scan the QR code.