Oh fab! I noticed in the recent update that was circulated, that the Aged Care Quality and Safety Commission is listed as statutory office operating within the Department. However, I wanted to bring to your attention as I am not sure if this is accurate as it does not reflect the type of body listed in Government Directory - Aged Care Quality and Safety Commission | Directory. ACQSC is listed as a primary body established under legislation, whereas the other offices such as OGTR, Rural Health Commissioner and AICIS are listed as secondary statutory structures operating in the Department. The Australian Government Organisations Register - Types of Bodies | Department of Finance, provides more information on the types of bodies. Just thought I would flag this with you. Happy to chat if you wanted more info 😊
