

Australian Government

Australian Government response to the Senate Select Committee on COVID-19: Third Interim Report - Public Interest Immunity Claims

SEPTEMBER 2026

Response to the recommendations

Australian Government response

The Government notes this recommendation. However, given the passage of time since the report was tabled in December 2021, a substantive Government response is no longer considered appropriate.

The department (then the former Department of Health and Aged Care) did, however, provide input into the Commonwealth Government COVID-19 Response Inquiry.