www.health.gov.au
INTRODUCTION

As a newly arrived group to Australia, the Assyrian community has a particular need for information about COVID-19 vaccines that can increase their confidence in getting vaccinated.

The Department of Health engaged a specialist multicultural communications agency to work with representatives of the Assyrian community to inform the development of this information pack.

This pack draws together information for you to use to meet the Assyrian community’s information needs. This pack also aims to provide some of the existing and new in-language COVID-19 vaccine information resources directly to the Assyrian community in Australia.

We encourage you to share the information pack to members of the Assyrian community and thank you for your assistance with sharing this important information.
