Overview of Co-design Streams

Parallel co-design streams

Two Immediate Co-design Streams:

AUTOMATED focus (API)

Co-design in this space will focus on bringing developers into conversations about data models and approaches; session will involve discussion and collaboration on API design & development

DIGITISED focus (UX)

Co-design in this space will work with end users of a system to create a great experience for users; sessions will observe how users interact with the system and will include UX and UI review activities

Automation through APIs

Digital Transformation initiatives with potential to leverage APIs

API Co-Design

(Note: Not all projects are fully funded or has known delivery dates but in Digital Transformation we are trying to design holistically and identify opportunities to validate and demonstrate high-value APIs that will help automate the eco-system)

Quality Indicators focused co-design

API Co-Design

- Approximately 12 representatives from various organisations actively participated in the workshop.
- There were 3 main activities covering:
  - Routine Care and QI information collection
  - Envisioning a provider's QI system with B2G
  - Testing the design of the QI API
- We reconfirmed the appreciation of the value that B2G brings to software vendors and providers.

Feedback from the session:

I like the openness to discussion

Was great to have Department people from different backgrounds in the room

Was useful having access to the materials before the meeting

I liked the interactivity

Could have been shorter

We could have started off further forward in the value chain

API Demo

- The team have delivered a QI prototype which was used during the recent co-design workshop.
- Published to a publicly available location (anytime platform in screenshot)
- We've used a FHIR lite questionnaire model
- Navigable data structure and mocking service available
- Now on to the demo
