

Health Ministers Meeting (HMM): Statement

7 September 2022

Federal, state and territory Health Ministers have agreed to transition to weekly reporting on COVID-19 statistics.

The move is supported by Chief Health Officers and comes as all Australians adjust to the continuing presence of COVID-19 in the community.

COVID-19 data will be released each Friday by the Commonwealth, and all states and territories, on information available up until the previous day (that is, each Thursday), until further notice.

The alignment will provide comparable data on notifications, hospitalisations, ICU admissions and deaths across jurisdictions and nationally.

Weekly reporting will begin on Friday 9 September 2022.
