

Human Papillomavirus (HPV) Working Party

Purpose

The HPV Working Party focuses on preparing advice for ATAGI's consideration on the epidemiology of HPV and vaccination options for the prevention of HPV in Australia.

Membership

| Name | Position |
|---|--|
| ATAGI members | |
| Prof Helen Marshall, Chair | Senior Medical Practitioner, Adelaide Women's & Children's Hospital |
| Ms Madeline Hall | Nurse Practitioner on ATAGI, Queensland Health |
| Ms Karen Peterson | National Immunisation Committee (NIC) nominee on ATAGI Manager, Immunisation Program, Queensland Health |
| A/Prof Michelle Giles | Infectious Diseases Physician (Alfred Health, Monash Health, Royal Women's Hospital, Sunshine Hospital) Adult Immunisation Physician (Monash Health, Sunshine Hospital) |
| Technical experts | |
| Prof Julia Brotherton | Epidemiologist and Medical Director, National HPV Vaccination Program Register, Victorian Cytology Service |
| Dr Christine Selvey | Medical Epidemiologist, |
| A/Prof Basil Donovan | Professor and Program Head Sexual Health Program, The Kirby Institute, UNSW, Sydney |
| National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance support | |
| A/Prof Kristine Macartney | Senior Editor, The Australian Immunisation Handbook Deputy Director, National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance |
| Dr Sanjay Jayasinghe | Research Fellow, National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance |
| Dr Clayton Chiu | Public Health Physician, National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance |
| Ms Alexis Pillsbury | Research Officer, National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance |
| Ms Cyra Patel | Senior Research Officer, National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance |
| Mr Peter Wnukowski-Mtonga | Research Officer, National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance |